Scramble for Rails: Japanese Military Transport on Thai Railways during World War II

Kakizaki, Ichiro 2019. 303 pp., illus. 12 pp. in col, 210 x 295 mm, pbk.

ISBN: 9789748434681 (WH Code E22730) ¥ 5,500+税

“Scramble for Rails: Japanese Military Transport on Thai Railways during World War II” is a groundbreaking study of military transport on Thai railways by the Japanese army during the war. Although most people recall the Thai-Burma line when hearing such keywords as Thailand, the Japanese army, railways, and World War II, the Japanese army in fact utilized almost all railways in Thailand for military purposes.

This book explicates the overall characteristics of Japanese military transport from the abundant historical materials regarding the operation and transport of Japanese military trains preserved at the National Archives of Thailand. It clearly describes how the Japanese army utilized Thai railways, clarifying transport items, routes, and volumes. Apart from transport by Japanese military trains, the use of civilian trains by Japanese soldiers is also analyzed.

Kulap Saipradit ('Siburapha'): Journalist & Writer in early 20th Century Siam

Smyth, David 2019. 255 pp., illus. in back & white, 145 x 207 mm pbk.

ISBN: 9789748434711 (WH Code E22731) ¥ 4,070+税

“Kulap Saipradit ('Siburapha'): Journalist & Writer in early 20th Century Siam” is the first book-length, English-language account of his work as a journalist and fiction writer. Kulap emerged in the mid-1920s as part of a new generation of fiction writers which rejected the popular trend of translating or adapting foreign works in favour of creating their own original Thai stories. Kulap proved one of the most popular and successful of this new wave, and two of his novels, The Battle of Life (1932) and Behind the Painting (1938) have become classics.
